The Paminus of the Nicaraguan canal would fimited celay. Vessels passing through it be cleaned by the action of fresh water, and steamers would leave it with boilers blied with fresh water without cost of Maintenance of canal and looks at Dar an uld be difficult and costly on account of the proligious rainfall, which averages 124 inches annually. It cannot be easy to main-tain a canal which must receive the drainage of a country having a precipitation so enoras And marlly, as vessels could not pay a tell much in excess of two dollars per son, it would be impossible to earn on the great sum that would be invested at Darien a fair criculated on the other hand that the Nicacoss would be so greatly below that of the other.

This summary will afford an outline of the arguments presented by the San Francisco board of trade, though it by no means ex hausts them. The statement is by far the best yet issued in relation to the comparative merits of the two routes. The board say that "the more carefully the subject is studied the more clearly it will be seen that this centl and its consequences aro not things ashamed of itself for its scurrility and falsehood, "We would never," says that paper, or its editor if we could have avoided it, save a stretly journalistic manner, had not the sone heen forced upon us" Allusions to Twe Observation or its editor by the Standard are of no particular consequence. Atlusion from that quarter to any person or subject Its editor's feeble incapacity in every other direction renders him also incacapab a in this though precisely here is where such powers as he has are all focalized. Occasionally, after he has poured out for a ed against us, we have photographed him in a stick full of matter, and let him pass. The tirade of falsehood and calumny on his part mgan without slightest excuse or provocaesting les of a gross and odious nature, which ra, was trought by Judge Bellinger from San a Waisington letter. Others followed in the same tirain. Since then all the "personal allusions" which the Standard has conta ried have coly been amplifications and variations of these original falsehoods. With the lies invented to support and cover it, this was a scheme from which any man with the least sees of honor would have revolted. Though Nother began this in the 'mere wentonness of infancy, and has kept it up ever since in the same spirit, he declare he has never resorted to 'personal allusions when he could avoid it, and that the source he has pursued has been forced upon him. Probably it has been forced upon him in the same way as other false and discretiable acts of his career. What is it but on evil nature that "forces" such things as wanton and studied calumny based on falsehand and reiterated even after the false bood it exposed, and official robbery based on a genificate of fraudulent measuremant of ork con- for the state? Revolutionary Movements on the Mexican Terson. May to From a most reliable source it at reported that Gen. Marquez with 120 Mexican revolutionists, recruited in the neighborhood of Yuma, is now stationed around the old tows of donorstic on the time to the roops go from one distance from Tucann. Troops go from the following following from tucannum from the from Tucannum from St. Go from Tucannum from who are established at Altara and Hermasilio, Col. Cotta and two other revolutionists arrived here this morning from Yuma, and in conjunction with Col. Machona, a revolutionist from Chihuahua, are to-day secretly endeavoring to recruit forces in Tucson for Marquez. M. J. Prico, Macican consul stationed here, has called on U.S. military authorities to assist him in suppressing the movement on A herican soil and to maintain international relations between the two governments.

Planto Make a Canal Through the Olympta Mand Fists.

OLYMPIA, May 16.—The Olympis board of trade have under consideration a plan for making a deep channel across the mud flats by mehas of a dam with tide gates to be erected across the bay to hold the water until the tide receden, when a single gate will be opened and this volume of rusning water will cut a channel deep enough to float the largest ships. Discovery of Iron.

A large deposit of iron ore has been discovered nine miles from Olympia in the form of a ledge 200 feet high, covering 200 acres. TWO HUNDRED DULLARS REWARD.

The Douglas County Road Country platudiff vs the Canyonvile and Calbrille Read Company the Caryonyllabani dalawilla Road Company distonation.

In this case the parties were each a corporation, incorporated under the general laws of Oregon, for the purpose of locating and constructing a wagon road (for toll) through the log caryon in Douglas county. Plaintiff commessed suit to enjoin defendant from maintaining a gate on its road. At the trial twas folly invoven (sud act contradicted) that the defendant had been duly incorporated, and had surveyed, located and adopted the line of its road, and completed about five miles of it so ere the plaintiff was incorporated. Judges Prim and Kelly decided (Judge Boise disseming) that the plaintiff could take defendant's road with the work flone on its without compensation, and by decree epoined the defendant from maintaining a gate on or if any way interfering with said road.

I will give fillo to any beason producing a similar decision made by any respectable court in th-United States of England.

Canyonville and Geleville Road Co. plaintiff, we see the parties were each a corporation of the parties of the ville and Galesville Road Co , plaintiff. vs. A. A. Fink et al, defendant. A. A. Fins et al, opennant.

This was an uslion by plaintiff to recover damages for defendants placing a gate, collecting toil upon plaintiff s'coad. The defense set up was that the Douglas County Road Co. owned the 'os I and were instructed to maintain the gaue and collect ioil, and defendants owned the tot and were instructed to manufain the gue and collect foll, and defendants were employed of saids company. The case was tied in the county court by jury and a verdict given in favore of plaintiff. An appeal was taken to the offenit court for Douglas county and rided by the court (Hon. J. F. Watson, judge), without a jury. It was found as feats that the gate complained of was upon the plaintiff's corporate road. That it was not on or within about five miles of the Douglas county road company's conforter road, and judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff and an appeal taken to the supreme poort. Judges Prim and Kelly, decided (Judge Boise directing) that defendants could maintain this gate and collect toll, and revised the judgment of the a England.

All the above facts can be found in the evience and records in the above named cases, Thurlow Weed on Grant's Candidacy. Thurlow Weed on Grant Language.

Thurlow Weed wide a letter in reply to an invitation to attend the anti-third term convention at St. Louis, approving the movement but declining to attend on account of age and infarmties. He expresses his views on the third term question with treast frankness: The influences that will enforce Gen. Grant's nomination, should such a nomination be mide, will insure his defeat. The from be mide, will insure his defeat. The premature call of our state convention, doupled with the methods by means of which a muscled delegation was appointed, rendered the anocess of our tieket at least doubtful. If delegates thus chosen here act with delegates from state, sure to east their elegional voice against Grant, his defeat in this state becomes inevitable. Will our republican friends in: states "solid" for democracy, if, reasonably admonished, deliberately involve themselves with us in a common calamity.

Spenestive "Ife."

i From the Cincinnati Commercial.

If the republican party is converted into a Grant party, and the democratic party into a Tilden concern, why, then a third party will at once fail, in, and instead of being called for by leaders and made up by nice management, it will assert itself and find leadership. It is a mistake to remove a that the recent ment, it will assert users and man reaccistary. It is a mistake to suppose that the people of the United States can be politically handesoffed and marched to the poils under orders from two persons.
